A support must be done more than once a year; the best is to do monthly payments with a bank transfer. For the declaration the transaction statement is needed.

The tax office can always request additional documents, to check if the supported person/s even need support. The tax office will decide if they accept the support or not. A confirmation in advance is not possible.

If possible transfer the amount to a single account and not a joint account.

We recommend that you don't pay any invoices of the supported person, rather you should forward the money to the supported person he/she should pay the invoices themselves, especially over the age of 16.

The support must be a certain amount, or the tax office won't accept the payment. Check in advance with us, what the amount is in your canton. The deductible amount (min. and max.) is usually between CHF 2'000.— and CHF 6'500.—
